

Appendix D. Lead Authors, Reviewers and Other Contributors

The U.S. Department of Energy would like to acknowledge the authors and reviewers listed below. This technical report is the culmination of contributions from more than 90 individuals and more than 50 organizations since June 2006. Their contributions and support were important throughout the development of this report. The final version of this document was prepared by the U.S. Department of Energy. Overall report reviewers included the U.S. Department of Energy, National Renewable Energy Laboratory, American Wind Energy Association, and other selected National Laboratory staff.

Report Lead Editors and Coordinators

Steve Lindenberg, U.S. Department of Energy, Brian Smith and Kathy O'Dell, National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL), Ed DeMeo, Renewable Energy Consulting Services*, (Team co-manager) and Bonnie Ram, Energetics Incorporated* (Team co-manager)

The Communications and Outreach Task Force advised on outreach strategy and facilitated engagement of key stakeholders. Members of this task force include:

Mary McCann-Gates *	Clipper Windpower
Jill Pollyniak *	Clipper Windpower
Thomas O. Gray	American Wind Energy Association
Susan Williams Sloan	American Wind Energy Association
Peggy Welsh	Energetics Incorporated

Workshops and Outreach

Two strategic workshops took place during the course of this work. At the first of these, held August 17–18, 2006, attendees developed the initial statement of the 20% Wind Scenario and defined work plans. At the second, held November 9–10, 2006, participants shared and discussed preliminary results and obtained input from a group of invited individuals from key stakeholder sectors. Previously, these individuals had been external to the effort. Many of the authors, reviewers, and task force members listed in this appendix attended one or both of these workshops.

The invited participants at the November workshop brought along important feedback and perspectives from their respective sectors that have helped to shape this report. Some also reviewed sections of the report. Their participation is not meant to imply that they or their respective organizations either agree or disagree with the findings of the effort. These participants are listed below:

Aaron Brickman	U.S. Department of Commerce
Jennifer DeCesaro	Clean Energy Group
Michael Fry	American Bird Conservancy
Matt Gadow	DMI Industries
Stephen Gehl	Electric Power Research Institute
David Hamilton	Sierra Club
John Holt	National Rural Electric Cooperative Association
Robert Hornung	Canadian Wind Energy Association
Karen Hyde	Xcel Energy
Ed Ing	Law Office of Edwin T. C. Ing
Debra Jacobson	DJ Consulting
Miles Keogh	National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners
Charles Linderman	Edison Electric Institute
Steve Lockard	TPI Composites
Craig Mataczynski	Renewable Energy Systems Americas
Christopher Namovicz	U.S. Department of Energy, Energy Information Administration
Alan Noguee	Union of Concerned Scientists
Jim Presswood	Natural Resources Defense Council
Kristine Schmidt	Xcel Energy
Linda Silverman	U.S. Department of Energy
Brian Siu	Apollo Project
Kate Watson	Horizon Wind Energy

On November 28, 2006, a topical outreach workshop was held with representatives from nongovernmental organizations concerned about wildlife conservation and the environment. Participants discussed the early findings of the Environment and Siting Task Force and offered insights into issues important to their organizations. Workshop attendees are listed below. Their participation is not meant to imply that they or their respective organizations either agree or disagree with the findings of the effort.

Matthew Banks	World Wildlife Fund
Laura Bies	The Wildlife Society
Brent Blackwelder	Friends of the Earth
John Coequyt	Greenpeace
Amy Delach	Defenders of Wildlife
Tom Franklin	Izaak Walton League
Michael Fry	American Bird Conservancy
Robert Gramlich	American Wind Energy Association
Tony Iallonardo	National Audubon Society
Laurie Jodziewicz	American Wind Energy Association
Katie Kalinowski	Resolve/National Wind Coordinating Collaborative
Katherine Kennedy	Natural Resources Defense Council

Betsy Loyless	National Audubon Society
Laura Miner	U.S. Department of Energy
Amber Pairis	Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies
Cliff Scher	Energetics Incorporated
Kate Smolski	Greenpeace
Robert Thresher	National Renewable Energy Laboratory
James Walker	enXco
Wayne Walker	Horizon Wind Energy
Tim Warman	National Wildlife Federation
Tom Weis	enXco
Peggy Welsh	Energetics Incorporated
Marchant Wentworth	Union of Concerned Scientists
